CONNECT,
COLLABORATE &
CELEBRATE
ARCHITECTURE!

An official event of the annual Kuala Lumpur Architecture Festival (KLAF), ARCHIDEX today, is a multi-faceted platform widely regarded as an important industry trade event date on the region's calendar for a global community of architecture and building professionals.

ARCHIDEX has become a point of confluence for industry professionals, international architects, sought-after speakers, emerging architects, and leading brands. The four-day celebration of architecture features a robust exhibition and marketplace, conferences, forums, trade talks, industry or association meetings, business matching, networking sessions, and awards for industry recognition.

A STRATEGIC PLATFORM TO CONNECT THE COMMUNITY & ADVANCE ARCHITECTURE!

ARCHIDEX connects community stakeholders with a singular goal of uplifting the industry through a set of shared objectives. The event is a perfect platform for industry stakeholders to create conversations on meeting present and future challenges, collaborate across borders, and foster fellowship among one another through a curated programme that continues through the year.

ARCHIDEX 2023 centres on three critical themes:

SUSTAINABILITY

The footprints we leave today will imprint our tomorrow. How do we build upon the present without destroying the future? What are the future energy sources we can tap on and what can we do to create a sustainable tomorrow?

FUTURE ARCHITECTURE

The built environment relies on visionary architects to improve and improvise our present. Iconic landmarks were designed from what was previously a dream. With technology today, greater visions are coming to reality in many forms.

WELLBEING

How we live, work, play, and learn has changed over the past few years. Primarily in densely populated urban centres, demand has increased for connected communities, multi-generational homes, and home offices that provides a high quality life and wellbeing.

Happening concurrently at ARCHIDEX, this year PAM is celebrating its 100-year anniversary! A century of innovation, building relationships and knowledge, architecture is a vocation which involves a diverse set of experts including professionals, clients, builders, suppliers, local authorities and more. As is the nature of architecture, the dynamics of relationships amongst these entities evolve, some growing together while others apart, based on each objective.

Next 100 seeks to recognise the many parties that make up the industry, and to elevate this bond moving forward, ARCHIDEX is delighted to play a central part in the PAM's grand centennial celebrations throughout 2023!

WHAT THEY SAY

ARCHIDEX is one of Southeast Asia's most prominent exhibition platforms, and Taiwan has been participating since 2018. ARCHIDEX enables Taiwan to make effective inroads into the Southeast Asia market, which we think has excellent potential.

Tee Soo Suang
Taiwan Excellence Representative

We've participated in the exhibition for several years now, and it's the best exhibition in Malaysia for the construction industry, especially for architects and designers. For us, it's a chance to meet customers face-to-face and introduce them to our unique products.

Angelyn Hor
Executive Director, Nilai Makmur Sdn Bhd

Without a platform like this, we wouldn't have had the opportunity to receive industry updates, renew old friendships and acquaintances, meet new friends and hear fresh ideas from speakers!

Ar. Hijas Kasturi

Seeing the variety of building materials here is an eye-opener. You can never keep so many samples in your office. So, this is the place to experience the most extensive range of samples there is.
